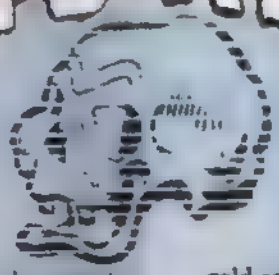
A GHOST'S REVENGE



Like a lot of other people in this country, I find it difficult to sleep at night. But that doesn't bother me because I know that if I just rest — even with my eyes open — I will have renewed energy for the next day. I am a bachelor and live in my house which is situated on Marasco Beach. This is a private strip of land which contains seventeen homes. Each house is built on stilts. So that when the tide gets high and the waters stormy, the water just goes underneath your home and not into it.

My name is Burt Donnell and I do designing for the Artskraft company. The pay is good, the work I like, and the hours are my own to set up. My house is the eighth on Marasco Beach. The last house was owned by old man Peterson. We sort of liked each other's company. He was a little old for surf board activity.

"Bet you would enjoy going around the world and just taking your surf board with you," he remarked to me one day.

"Nothing could be better," I replied. "I like my work. And I can do it any place in this world."

"Maybe it can be arranged some day," he smiled. "But I got some news for you. My dead sister's son is coming to live with me. Hope you two get on together."

So a week later, this fellow by the name of Dave Kempler comes to live with his uncle. He did his best to be pleasant. But there was something about him I didn't like or trust. Just hard at that time to say what it was. Then one day two months later I get the bad news. Old man Peterson had a heart attack and died in his bed. The funeral was private and I attended it. Didn't sleep at all that night. So I went outside and sat on the beach. Just watched the reflection of the moon on the water. Then it seemed to me as though the moon descended to the water and started coming closer and closer to me. I shook my head. What was wrong with myself? The moon then seemed to change to some kind of a white figure. It spoke to me slowly and I recognized the voice.

"You will help me," it began. "My nephew killed me. He is looking for the gold box I buried. Hold out your right hand."

This I did and the spirit, ghost, apparition or whatever you want to call it, then placed a gold coin into my hand.

"You will give this to my nephew. Tell him to do his digging right under the house. Beneath the end of the porch. Remember, you will do this. Do not fail me and I will not fail you."

Then it vanished. Of course I figured I just was seeing things. Until I looked at my hand, and it contained a twenty dollar U.S. gold coin! It had really happened to me. The ghost of old man Peterson had spoken to me. What was I to do? I figured just follow instructions. So I went back to my house. Waited till noon and went over to see the nephew.

"I figure you are the heir to your uncle's estate," I began. "The only surviving relative as far as I know. There was once a rumor that he had a lot of money in gold coins. If you want to find it, I guess you should dig for it. It ought to be under the house. Beneath the end of the porch."

I handed him the gold coin. He looked at it and then looked at me. Who knew what was in his mind? I went back to my place. About three hours later I went out and walked along the beach. I saw him digging beneath the house. I went back to my place. Then I drove to town. When I came back there were police cars and an ambulance in the vicinity.

"Terrible thing happened," said Lou Rogers who owned a gas station. "Seems the nephew of the late old man Peterson was digging beneath the house. Then it fell on him and killed him."

That almost put me into a state of shock. Had I been the tool of a dead man's revenge? I was very much upset. So the next day I went to see Captain Frank Riley of Homicide. I told him everything.

"Almost unbelievable," he said to me. "I will get a court order and exhume the body. Then I will tell you what I think of your story."

A week later he came to see me. And he told me the startling news. It was definite that old man Peterson had died of a broken neck. Not a heart attack. Then more news.

"He didn't say what house the gold was buried under. Let's dig under your house. But we will shore up the place."

They found a chest full of gold coins. With an oilskin envelope that contained a will leaving me the entire estate.

Do you have art talent worth developing? Take our free test and see

If you have ever wondered whether you had art talent, here is your chance to find out. The founders of Famous Artists School have put together what many artists and educators consider to be the most revealing test of art ability ever devised. It is offered to you free.

Designed for people uncertain of their ability

The people who take this Art Talent Test are of all ages and occupations. Most of them have little or no previous art training. By professional standards, their drawings may be awkward and amateurish. But the ones who possess the gift of art talent reveal it in many ways. Through simple little exercises, they show the inborn sense of design, the feeling for composition, the ability to observe, and the lively imagination which are such important ingredients of art talent.

The reliability of this method of screening, as well as the effectiveness of the training, has been proven again and again by the impressive record of success of our students and graduates.

They passed the test and went on to become successful artists

When Anthony Fusa took the Art Talent Test, he was a mail clerk, "stuck" in a low-pay routine job. Today, he's an artist for a printing firm, doing exciting creative work. Kathleen Gironda went from a salesgirl in a department store to a fashion illustrator in the same store. Virginia Barter, a farmer's wife and mother of three, now sells just about everything she paints. These are just a few of the literally hundreds of "success stories" our students report to us.

So if you love to sketch or dabble in paints—and have often wondered if you "have what it takes" to become a well-paid commercial artist or spare-time professional painter—why not seize this opportunity to find out? All you need is a pencil and a half-hour of your time. With your special interest, it will be one of the most intriguing and enjoyable half-hours you ever spent.

What the Talent Test covers

First, you will be shown ten pairs of simple designs and asked to pick the one in each pair that has "a feeling of rightness" about it. Then you will see twenty pairs of pictures, and check which composition in each pair is more pleasing. You'll be asked to do original sketches to demonstrate your imagination and powers of observation. And in similar ways, your feeling for mood, form, movement, and so on will be tested.

When you complete the test and mail it back, it will be graded free by a member of the School's staff. If you receive a passing grade (and we must warn you that many don't), or can offer sufficient evidence of art talent, you will then be eligible to enroll. You may choose whichever of our courses is best suited to your goals.

Courses offer personal instruction

These courses were especially designed for talented people who can't leave their families or jobs for art training away from home. The 12 famous artists who started the School over 19 years ago contributed all their lifetime secrets of art technique to what they believe to be the finest art lessons ever created. They took time out from their own busy careers and made thousands of special drawings to demonstrate each point. Then they devised a method of constructive criticism that is as personal as tutoring. Your instructor, who is himself required to be a practicing professional artist, spends up to several hours on just one of your assignments. He actually draws or paints his suggestions for improvement, and then "talks" to you by letter, dictating a long, friendly message of specific advice and encouragement.

You will receive an interesting brochure about our School and its revolutionary methods along with your free Art Talent Test. If you have ever dreamed of success in art, and wondered if it were possible, why not mail the coupon at left for both the Talent Test and the brochure right now?
